Message from Head teacher: You may have seen speculation in the press about remote learning again next term. As before we will make measured decisions when we are in receipt of all the information. We are not sending home laptops and work now, we don't believe that is good for anybody's wellbeing. We want you all to relax and have the best Christmas possible. Please be reassured that we do have contingency plans in place should we need them. Thank you all for your support again this term. Merry Christmas Everyone.
